

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By Associated Press

Wasn't the Truck Missing?
Rohrer, Pa.—The fire alarm sounded, but the hose didn't get going right away.
They found someone had drained all the gasoline from the truck tanks.
After the fire they discovered the thief also had taken a fire kit and eight bride tables from the fire station.

Mistaken Identity.
Columbia, S. C.—State constables had raided the place for liquor previously. They weren't surprised when they found several jars of liquor.
They moved to the chief's office to pour the supposed liquor down the sink. But it didn't smell like alcohol.
It was water.

Hide and Sleep.
Corpus Christi, Tex.—William Havel, negro, had an excuse when he was accused of drunkenness after being found asleep beside an empty bottle on the court room floor.
"I heard a colored man was looking for me, judge, and I figured this was the safest place for me to hide," said Willie.
Justice C. W. Briggs considered the explanation adequate.

Rugged Individualism.
Chicago—When Jack Perry was arrested in a raid on the alleged proprietor of a gambling establishment, he turned his misfortune into a profit. The police also held 219 men who were in the place at the time of the raid. Seven patrol wagons were unable to transport the entire group to the station house, so Perry, who also is a bus operator, rented the police one of his conveyances.

Stone Ridge.
Stone Ridge, Oct. 10.—The annual meeting of the Rogers Harbor Community Club will be held on Saturday evening, October 12. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year and the meeting will be followed by a barn dance at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Sanger S. Carleton. Present officers of the club are Charles C. Walden, Jr., president; Harry G. Pearson, vice president; Dr. Sanger S. Carleton, treasurer, and Mrs. William F. Hasbrouck, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Myers and daughters, Velma and Marion, of Marletown, were guests on Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Green Lockwood.
Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hunt have returned home from spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Scott Ellis of Greenville and they attended a fair at Dormanville.
Mr. and Mrs. William Morrissey of Elmhurst, L. I., are being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Von Bargen.

Mrs. Richard Davidson of Jersey is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. T. Hobart.
Miss Patsy Davenport was an overnight guest on Monday of Miss Florence Hanson.
Miss Charlotte Becker, a teacher at Yorktown Heights High School, was a guest on Saturday at Edgewater Camp.

Miss Edna Miller was a dinner guest on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Linhardt of Kyserike. The Rev. and Mrs. Roscoe Strivings, accompanied by Mrs. Jane Van Demark of Kripplush, attended the District Stewards meeting held at Ellenville M. E. Church on Wednesday.

The Ladies' of M. E. Church are grateful to all who helped to make the chicken supper on Wednesday evening a success. The Rev. R. J. Harrison and Mrs. Harrison of Poughkeepsie were welcomed at the supper by many of their friends. Mr. Harrison was a former pastor of this place.

Miss Mary Krom, Miss Frances Pine, Arnold Jacobson, Miss Dorothy Ransom and the Rev. Roscoe Strivings attended the winter institute of Rondout Valley Local Union of Epworth League held at Summitville M. E. Church on Thursday evening.

The Rev. John Steketee of Kingston will have charge of the church service at the Reformed Church on Sunday at 11 a. m.
E. J. Hunt of Edgewater Camp is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Harry Ornstein, at Crystal Lake.

Miss Anna Nilsson has returned home from a week's visit with relatives in Brooklyn.
Emma Lou and Jimmy Clark were guests on Wednesday afternoon of Mrs. Henry Von Bargen.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walden are spending a few days in New York. Miss Libby May of Bellville, N. J., is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis.

The Rev. George B. Mead of Kingston was a dinner guest of the Misses Julia and Josephine Hasbrouck on Wednesday.

YOUNG MARRIED WOMEN'S CLUB MET THURSDAY.
On Thursday afternoon, the Young Married Women's Club of the Kingston Y. W. C. A., in addition to their regular meeting, held "open house," beginning at 2 o'clock. At that time they and their guests were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Adah Mace Curran, mezzo soprano, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Mansfield, both of Newburgh, after which afternoon tea was served.

The exceptionally enjoyable program included two groups of songs and a group of piano solos. The president, Mrs. Burton L. Haver introduced the soloists.

Mrs. Curran has a particularly lovely voice and always sings with due appreciation and musicianship, very appealing songs. Her first group included:
"Aria di Poesia" from "Ariette," by Handel, arranged by Bibbo.
"Stars with Golden Shadings," by Robert Franz.

"To You," by Richard Strauss. All were heartily and enthusiastically received and Mrs. Curran sang her well chosen encore, "Love's Lullaby of All," by Henschel.

Mrs. Dorothy Mansfield, also was happy in her choice of songs, playing brilliantly Paderewski's "Nimrod" in G; the "Waltz" by Brahms, that all musical audiences love and the dancing "Tarentella," by Heller.

France's Home Problems Add To Laval's Burdens In Ethiopian War Crisis

Paris (AP)—Tens of many "corps" is boiling up as a parliamentary showdown approaches to bother Premier Pierre Laval, already burdened with the problems arising from the Italian-Ethiopian war.

During the summer his wide decree powers enabled him to stave off domestic worries. But soon he must answer many challenges.

There are so many points in the general discontent that nearly every political group has a special grudge against the government. Laval himself, before issuing his declaration of war, warned the country he expected every Frenchman to be disappointed, but he said he would play no favorites and would hurt all alike.

Six Main Problems.
War, bad business, fascism, budget balancing, devaluation and the farm revolt are six main problems. Each of them is a subject of acrid controversy.

Laval's job of halting the Ethiopian invasion without antagonizing Mussolini, of upholding the League, yet retaining both British and Italian friendships, caused sharp division among the people.

Many were for allowing Italy to take Ethiopia just as they said, France and England had taken other small countries in the past. Others insisted the League must remain a rallying point for a group of nations that would hold Germany in check.

While watching war clouds over Africa and Europe, French people discussed the low state of business, running at half speed. Laval was praised for his political courage in cutting salaries, rents and interest rates, but his opponents predicted failure of his effort to revive prosperity through devaluation.

Budget Division Balances.
Budget balancing, attempted for five years, was taken out of the mysteries of high finance and brought home to the people when the general election touched most pocket-books.

Marcel Regnier, minister of finance, produced two budgets. One is scaled down to fit the government's newer and lower standard of living. The other, "extraordinary" budget, groups the several billions of extra expense previously charged to the treasury. That was an easy way of presenting the national budget as apparently balanced.

Half of France, living on or by the farm, long have complained at low produce prices, high taxes and high costs of everything they buy.

Just before the last harvest, wheat sold at a dollar a bushel, far below what the French farmer says is cost of production. A short crop and government measures sent the price to $1.60 a bushel where the government pegged it, temporarily at least, by an elaborate system of guaranteeing prices and subsidizing storage of surplus.

Rebellious farmers, organized into a "Peasant Front," pledged themselves to resist tax collection. Although only a small percentage of farmers were members, Premier Laval considered it such a dangerous idea that he raised it to a national problem by bringing it before the cabinet.

an encore was demanded and she sang a most charming little encore, "Cob-webs," by Gerritt Smith, and sang it charmingly.

Following the program delicious afternoon tea was served from a very attractive table with center piece of autumnal flowers and lighted candles.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.
Deeds Recently Filed in the Office of the County Clerk.

Max Sobel and Rose, his wife, of Wawarsing to the county of Ulster a parcel of land in the town of Wawarsing for the Pine Bush-Ellenville, part 3, state highway. Consideration $125.

Georgia Graham of Crawford to the county of Ulster a parcel of land in the town of Shawangunk for the Walker Valley-Awosting state highway. Consideration $10.

Carries Heavy Load

Pierre Laval, premier of France, faces a parliamentary showdown on domestic politics as well as on his policy in the Italian-Ethiopian imbroglio.

ernment measures sent the price to $1.60 a bushel where the government pegged it, temporarily at least, by an elaborate system of guaranteeing prices and subsidizing storage of surplus.

Rebellious farmers, organized into a "Peasant Front," pledged themselves to resist tax collection. Although only a small percentage of farmers were members, Premier Laval considered it such a dangerous idea that he raised it to a national problem by bringing it before the cabinet.

COTTEKILL.
Cottekill, Oct. 10.—A number of the members of the Ladies' Aid Society spent the day with Mrs. L. R. Conner in Summitville Wednesday.

Mary Edna and Oscar Beach, Jr. spent the week-end with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ellsworth, in Kingston.

Mrs. Jim Vreeland spent Wednesday with her in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Prall.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. will hold an oyster supper in the church hall Friday evening, November 1. Supper from 5:20 o'clock until all are served.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Beach accompanied S. H. Wilson and daughter, Rutha, to Downsville Sunday and spent the day with his mother, Mrs. Matilda Wilson.

Mrs. L. D. Prall accompanied Mrs. Arthur Deputy to Kingston, Thursday to spend the day.

THEY'VE GOT YOUR NUMBER

The Child Death Toll

By CHARLES A. HARNETT

(New York State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles)

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 11 (AP).—

Analysis of the motor vehicle accidents in New York state in 1934 shows that 142 children were killed and 5,849 children were injured in the streets.

Riding bicycles, coasting on sleds, and chasing hoops or balls in the street were responsible for most of these accidents.

In the same period 135 pedestrians were killed and 4,136 others were injured in consequence of stepping from behind parked cars.

In such cases the motorist rarely has opportunity to bring his car under control.

Another dangerous practice is crossing the street with head down in a wind storm or with the view cut off by a bulky bundle which is being carried. Last year 97 persons were killed and 1,574 injured in accidents resulting from this cause.

The attitude of both the motorist and the pedestrian requires considerable adjustment to assist in eliminating such accidents.

Courtesy does not seem to exist on the part of either motorist or pedestrian in the use of the highways.

SHANDAKEN

F. S. Osterhout, the Shandaken grocer, was a Kingston visitor attending a meeting of the Fairview Store people on Monday night.

The Rev. W. H. Wakeham returned home on Monday from a visit to New York city and other points.
Mrs. Ethel Brown of Oneonta called on friends in this place on Friday. On Saturday she motored to Gilbertsville, accompanied by Harold and Raymond, where they attended the funeral services of an uncle of Harold and Raymond, returning to Shandaken on Sunday.

First Report In The Scout Financial Campaign Encouraging

The first reports of the Boy Scout financial campaign, Ulster-Greene County, for the six districts outside of the Kingston district, were received Wednesday evening, and are considered most encouraging. The village of Clintondale, the first community to pass its goal, has raised to date 125 per cent of its goal. The goal was $75 and they have $94. With more cards to see. The village of Maplecrest, in Greene county, has also passed the goal of $40, reporting $40.25, with many cards yet to see. The villages of Windham and Hunter, whose goals are $150 reported $61.50, or 41 per cent. Following are the standings up to Wednesday night:

Many communities were unable to get their report in until time for the second report, on Friday night.
The work of preparing the Kingston district campaign is now under way with Clarence L. Dumm, principal of the Kingston High School, in charge of the city of Kingston. Mr. Dumm is assisted by a committee composed of A. J. Huras, Harry Halverson, Roger H. Loughran and other members of the local district committee. The chairman for the village of Port Ewen is Scott Vining, and for the village of High Falls, Herbert Smith. The chairman for the village of Rosendale is to be announced shortly.

Britain's Constitution Marked by Certain Law.

The British constitution is mainly unwritten and customary, observes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer but its development is marked by certain outstanding and fundamental laws of which the principal ones are the Magna Charta, adopted in 1215, which secured annual parliaments and the equal administration of justice; the habeas corpus act, adopted in 1679, securing the liberty of the person; the act of settlement, in 1701, providing for the Protestant succession to the throne; the act of union with Scotland 1707, the act of union with Ireland 1800; the parliament act of 1911, which enabled the commons to pass certain acts without the concurrence of the other chamber; the government of Ireland act, 1920, and the Irish Free State (agreement) act of 1922.
The constituent parts of the British constitution describe the sovereign the legislature, the executive and the judiciary.

An Underground Lighthouse

Britham is the only place in England, and perhaps in the world, which boasts an underground lighthouse, says London Tit-Bits Magazine. It is situated at Berry Head, more than 300 feet above sea level, with such a wonderful natural position that it has been unnecessary to build higher. The revolving gear is embedded in a solid foundation of rock 30 feet deep, and only the projector shows above the surface. Incidentally, although giving a beam having an intensity of 15,000 candle power, this most modern of searchlights has a burner smaller than most ordinary house lamps. Once set in motion the light revolves automatically, flashing twice every 15 seconds, and on fine nights can be seen more than 20 miles at sea.

Lake Nicaragua in Central America is the largest lake south of the Great Lakes, and north of Lake Titicaca in Peru and Bolivia.

Woman Takes Office As Legion Commander

Beard, Ore., Oct. 11 (AP)—A woman commander of an American Legion Post, who promised to tell her reports "at least one good story a month," held official title to her new office today.

She, Miss Castle Holmes, commander of the Kent, Ore., Legion Post, was installed yesterday by Fred A. Lissallen, commander of the Kent Post because every member insisted she run for office. Lissallen said, "And she will make a darn good commander, too."

Outside of Addis Ababa, there are no roads for wheeled traffic in Ethiopia. Transport is by mules, donkeys, pack-horses and camels.

John J. McCabe Struck In Eye by Golf Ball

A golf ball that bounded off a piece of rocky ground when he tried to drive out of the rough near tee No. 3 on the Twaalfakill links caused painful injury to John J. McCabe's right eye Thursday afternoon at the Wall street restaurant played a foursome with E. H. Remmert.

James A. Dwyer and Dr. John F. Larkin. All of the golfers had driven off the tee and McCabe's shot fell short into the rough. When he tried to drive out of the rough, the ball struck a ledge of rock more than 10 feet away, caromed off in the direction of McCabe and struck him in the right eye. The blow rendered him unconscious. Dr. Larkin gave first aid on the spot and removed him to the Benedictine Hospital where he worked on the injury together with Dr. William K. Cranston, a specialist in eye treatment. Last night Mr. McCabe was taken to his home. "It is hard to tell just yet how severely Mr. McCabe's eye was injured," Dr. Larkin said this afternoon. "The injury was a painful one. However, he is resting comfortably today."

Struck In Eye By Driver. Thursday afternoon while N. E. Von Wiegand of Lucas avenue was instructing his wife in driving at the Wiltwyck Golf Club he was struck in the eye by her driver when he failed to stand far enough away to escape the swing. He suffered an injury which made stitches necessary.

Main Branch Court.

Port Arthur, Tex. (AP) During a session of the corporation court here recently it began to rain. The roof leaked and the rain descended upon the just and the unjust. Judge H. H. Hendrix moved the seat of justice and commanded four trustees to attend the emptying of two large beer crocks and a wash tub pressed into service to catch the rain-water.

Hitlerites To Herd 200,000 Girls In New Compulsory Labor Camps

By A. D. STEFFERUD.

Berlin (AP)—To house the 200,000 girls who must in 1937 begin their labor service, 5,000 new camps will be needed.

Of these, 4,000 will be especially constructed for them. The others will be pre-empted.

The problem is the most important of several that must be solved before the Nazis' big plan of placing compulsory labor service for women on a parity with that for men is started.

It's Like Conscription.

Provisions must be made for re-training all young women of certain age groups from their jobs. Women leaders must be trained. Work must be made available on farms and the financial question answered.

The project resembles conscription, for the young women, aged 17 to 25, will relinquish their positions and serve six months in farm or homestead communities, helping farm mothers, doing bucolic chores and engaging in social welfare work.

The men's labor service, which went into effect on a compulsory basis October 1, embraces farm, highway, canal and similar work. For young men this is a prerequisite to military service and lay employment.

Make Jobs for Oldsters.

Nazi leaders stress the importance of hard work and community life in camps to the inculcation of national socialist ideals, but admit that it also plays a part in the employment drive by making jobs available for older persons.

Official labor offices are now providing for 80 per cent of the 10,000 girls in the "voluntary" labor service, but Nazi leaders say that the state will have to bear the costs of the compulsory arrangements.

To young men, meanwhile, the offer is made that those who have previously been in the labor camps may become group leaders after October 1, at a daily wage of 20 to 30 cents.

Simultaneously newspapers are paying greater attention to what they call "the birth of a new culture" in the workers' camp.

They declare that recreation among the boys and girls takes the forms of sculpture, singing, instrumental music, painting and, a new form, the speaking chorus, all of which is of "deep significance to the people's wellbeing."

Compulsory labor service for German girls between the ages of 17 and 25 has been decreed by the Nazi regime and thousands of them already live in camps, whence they go out "by the day" to help farmers' wives with the chores, tend babies or do social welfare work. This lonely college student, who specialized in biology, seems to enjoy the sensation of splitting wood.

LONDON TOBACCONISTS OFFER WOMEN A "STOGIE"

London (AP)—English women may and sometimes do smoke pipes, but not cigars.

Two previous attempts to induce them to favor the "stogie" have failed. But now London tobacconists are making another concerted drive.

A new type of feminine cigar is on the market, made from Havana leaf of the most delicate mildness, little bigger than a cigarette.

"These latest importations are made of the youngest, most fragrant cigar leaf, so mild they wouldn't make even the most amateur smoker wince," a leading importer said, predicting a furor of cigar-smoking among women in the near future.

MOVE STARTED TO MARK HISTORIC CHISHOLM TRAIL

Enid, Okla. (AP)—Chisholm trail, historic overland cattle route of the Old West, may be preserved through use of Oklahoma granite markers and a compilation of its legends. O. E. Brewster of Crescent, Okla., has proposed immediate action on marking the trail. The 1931 Oklahoma legislature voted to define and locate it and have it placed on official maps.

Blackbirds Couldn't Take It. Parsons, Kas. (AP)—O. H. Rogers, pestered by flocks of blackbirds maintaining a roost in the trees about his home, installed his radio beneath the boughs. The birds left.

the COAL you really ought to try

HAS TO KNOW COAL

"I want you to send me some more of that Black Stork Coal. It is without a doubt the finest coal I ever had... Wonderful heat, hardly any ash and not a clinker. My job is to make heat (a fireman) and know coal and believe me that coal is great."

G. Y. Freeman.

"Why shouldn't I know coal—I've worked around the mines. This Black Stork Coal burns to a fine ash, and it's very satisfactory. I intend recommending it to my friends for your coal is coal, and not filled with slate."

John Gallagher.

MORE HEAT,
LESS ASH,
SATISFACTION

"During the severe winter of 1933-34 I got more heat, less ash and more satisfaction while giving less attention to the furnace than ever before—while using Black Stork Hi-Test Anthracite."

D. F. Torrey.

"Black Stork Coal did something for me no other coal ever did. I banked my fire Saturday night and returned home Sunday midnight. The house was warm and the coal was still burning."

I. J. Templeton.

NO CLINKERS,
LESS ASH,
—WARMER

"Black Stork is the finest coal you ever put in my bin. No trouble with clinkers, and less ash. My home was never so warm and cozy."

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "The 39 Steps." Here's an evening of the grandest entertainment one could wish for, a melodramatic treat that fairly glitters with excitement, intrigue and danger. Robert Donat, the handsome hero of "Monte Cristo," is this time falsely accused of murder, and in order to prove his innocence, it becomes necessary for him to track down and capture one of the biggest bands of crooks in the business. And strangely enough, a girl he detests and who despises him, becomes his partner in the exciting quest. Rapid action, moments of rare humor, treachery and fear are all skillfully woven into this extraordinary picture and to see it is to live in the grand manner as the bewildered hero untangles the web about his being. Subtle camera work plus brilliant dialogue and acting combine to make this talkie a standout attraction, one of the most lively dramas of the year. The cast offers Madeleine Carroll, Alfred Hitchcock, Godfrey Tearle, and Peggy Ashcroft, all of the English stage. The picture was produced in Britain and under the G. B. Banner. A don't miss thriller.

Orpheum: "Lady Tubbs" and "Big Boy Rides Again." Alice Brady scores her best hit after years of work before the camera in this story of a railroad camp cook who comes into an inheritance and who immediately goes social in a big way. The play takes a healthy wallop at the silly pastimes of the idle rich and the comedy is excellent and enjoyable. Anita Louise, Douglass Montgomery and Alan Mowbray lend ample support. "Big Boy Rides Again" is the other feature and it is filled with hair raising escapes and romance.

Kingston: "Don't Bet on Blondes" and "Pursuit." Warren Williams, Guy Kibbee, Claire Dodd and several of the lesser Warner Brothers comedy artists all participate in the first offering at the Kingston, the story of a slick insurance salesman who sells a man a policy that insures his daughter against marrying for three years. It proves to be a choice situation to hang some comedy moments on, and the players make the most of their chances. "Pursuit" is a thriller as it dramatizes the efforts of two people to smuggle a wealthy child across the Mexican border. Suspense is well maintained throughout the picture. Chester Morris, Sally Eilers, Henry Travers, Dorothy Peterson and Scotty Beckett are featured.

Tomorrow

Broadway: "Broadway Melody of 1936." The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios turn musical again, seemingly for the express purpose of putting across a young lady by the name of Eleanor Powell, who proves to be about the closest thing to Fred Astaire in this or any other vicinity. In a story of the show business and the "Big White Way," Miss Powell scampers through her dances in an astounding and satisfactory manner, to the lilting tunes of several excellent songs, manufactured by two of Hollywood's best jazz composers. The whole thing is done on a grand scale for nothing has been spared in a financial or directorial way to make this talkie fairly shout with big movie names and expensive settings. Along with Miss Powell, we find such gracious performers as June Knight, Una Merkel and the Albertina Rausch Ballet, which incidentally contributes one of the most beautiful chorus numbers ever witnessed on any screen. Jack Benny of radio fame, Buddy and Vilma Essen of the stage, the petit songster, Frances Langford, Robert Taylor, Nick Long, Jr., Sid Silvers and Harry Stockwell are among the featured players in a cast numbering hundreds. You will like the comedy dancing of the Essen duo, and the work of Jack Benny is excellent. A don't miss musical extravaganza.

Orpheum: Same.
Kingston: "Red Salute." Billed as a romantic comedy, this latest vehicle starring Barbara Stanwyck, tells of a wealthy girl on the loose in Mexico and of an American soldier who becomes tied up with her in a series of difficulties that lead to innumerable laughs and exciting incidents. But the producers also have their moments of seriousness, for the red flag of radicalism flies in many of the scenes and the impression is created that the show is treading on pretty dangerous ground.

Robert Young has his best talkie role to date as the soldier boy who falls under the spell of Miss Stanwyck and a fine supporting group includes Hardie Albright, Cliff Edwards, Gordon Jones, Ruth Donnelly and Paul Stanton. Cliff Edwards almost steals the show with his comedy and his songs. Here is an evening of excitement, romance, fighting, laughter and propaganda about the red scare.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The pendulum of movie "cycles," swinging now to one form of entertainment and now to another, plays peculiar tricks on actors.

Musicals are "in" now, and very much in. All the studios are making tunefilms, and yet not all the singers are being given their chance to sing.

Here is how it worked out in the cases of two well-known singers, both of whom have done dramatic as well as musical roles on the stage:

Miss Ellis Sings

Mary Ellis, beginning as a singer, was successful in the Metropolitan, then switched to operetta, and eventually turned to drama. For several years she had not sung on the stage when the old pendulum in Hollywood swung back to musicals. As it was swinging, Miss Ellis was appearing on the stage and she was rushed off to Hollywood to become a singing star.

Peggy Wood, noted on the stage in operettas as well as drama, made one early talking picture, but was gone from Hollywood by the time musicals "came in" the first time. She continued singing on the stage all the time that musicals were "out" in Hollywood. But when the screen suddenly revived its interest in sharp and flat, Miss Peggy Wood was acting, not singing. Miss Peggy Wood is in Hollywood now—acting, not singing.

Going 'Lit'ry

Miss Wood, not grieving unduly over this unreasoning slight of proved vocal talents, is turning "lit'ry" with a vengeance. Her interest in writing, already productive of her volume of essays on "Actors and People," received a new impetus when publishers requested her to write a foreword to a new edition of her late father's collected short stories.

Eugene Wood was an extremely popular magazine writer of 30-odd years ago, and now they have reissued the two volumes, "Back Home" and "Folks Back Home." In one, Peggy Wood's "foreword" is modestly headed "Personal Note." "But it has started me writing again," she says, "and now I intend to buckle down to some serious work. Of course I don't mean to make a career of it. No, I'd like to write only as a kind of embroidery to my other work."

That would make Miss Wood's home a very scribbly place indeed, for her husband is John V. A. Weaver.

Five of Chicago's public schools, according to the Chicago Association of Commerce, are devoted entirely to the education of crippled children. Combined they have a student roster of just less than 2,000 incapacitated juveniles.

Back For Concerts

The masterful violinist, Fritz Kreisler, and his wife are shown as they arrived in America for the winter. Kreisler is scheduled to appear in a series of concerts. (Associated Press Photo)

Race Horse Honored

In Eldridge park, Elmira, N. Y., is a bronze statue of a race horse, the American Girl, a famous trotter that won so many races that her owner challenged the world, but no one accepted the challenge. On October 2, 1875, the American Girl dropped dead in a race, while in the lead. Tense excitement and sympathy were aroused, the race itself forgotten and the crowd pressed across the track to where the favorite lay. From the grandstand could be seen a rainbow, one end apparently just over the body of the horse. The American Girl had died in the harness, as she lived, ahead. The band played a funeral dirge. Soon the judges' stand was draped in black and subscription started for a monument to be erected above the place where the mare was buried.—Detroit News.

HIGHLAND

Highland, Oct. 11.—Miss Isabelle Van Keuren with the help of Mrs. M. E. Maynard and Miss Julia Van Keuren presented some interesting facts about India which was the subject of the Mission Circle meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. E. Maynard. An attraction was the presence of a Mr. Salomon who had spent the month of September, 1934, in Calcutta and also on the west coast of the country. He had many pictures which he had taken, of the temples, the chief buildings in the best sections of the city and of a crematorium. He told of the dirt and filth, of the river Ganges and how it acts as a sewer and a means of drinking and bathing source. He spoke of the worship of fish and cows and for that reason cattle have the run of the city parks. He said the temperature runs to 110 degrees. The devotions and business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. C. G. Rathgeb. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostess. Attending were: Mrs. D. S. Haynes, Mrs. Howard Griffin, Miss Alice Henderson, Mrs. Elmer Randall, Mrs. Minnie West, Mrs. Jennie Abrams, Mrs. F. L. Vall, Mrs. Carrie Redmond, Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb, the Rev. D. S. Haynes, Miss Nancy Rathgeb, the Misses Belle and Julia Van Keuren, Eliza Raymond.

Mrs. Fred Lewis Vall, Mrs. Carrie Redmond, Mrs. M. E. Maynard, Abram W. Deyo and the Rev. D. S. Haynes went on the excursion to New York Tuesday on the Day Line.

Mrs. Kate Wynecook and her son, Frank Green, of Syracuse, are visiting Mrs. Emma Decker.

A class in general science under John J. Gaffney visited the telephone office Wednesday and saw the workings of the "phone."

Miss Alice Henderson of Flushing is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward Griffin at Stonycroft.

As Mrs. Floyd Bennett was starting her car Wednesday morning it developed a fire for some unexplained reason. She could not get it controlled so put in a call for the fire company which responded immediately and soon put out the fire.

Walter R. Seaman spent Wednesday in New York on a business trip.

Promotions Sunday in the Sunday school of the Methodist Church were from the primary class of Miss Mildred Osterhout to the class of Mrs. Elmer Fisher and from her class to that of Mrs. Edison Dimsey, Jr., who promoted to the third grade of Mrs.

Floyd Bennett. The latter promoted Iona Bennett, Billy Coutant, Carl Reiver, Betty Wilcox and Alfred LaFaire to the class of Miss Belle Brinkerhoff.

The Thursday afternoon bridge club met this week with Mrs. D. H. Starr.

Attending the sessions of North River Presbyterian Thursday at Cornwall were Mrs. D. S. Haynes, Mrs. A. W. Lent, Mrs. Minnie West, Mrs. Jennie Abrams, Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb.

In the meetings of the Town Board held Saturday and Monday nights they set the fee for the inspector of the house connections for the sewer at $2.25. This sum must be paid in to the town clerk, L. E. Callahan, who in turn pays Edward Aekley, the authorized inspector. The rules and regulations regarding house connections were drafted by Walter R. Seaman and Walter Hasbrouck, who investigated similar rules in effect in villages of this size. The Board accepted them. The contract for the erection of a pump house and tank was awarded to Ralph Dirk for $1,650. This will be located at the river. Two new street lights were approved, one to be set at Oakes and the other at the head of the Little Italy road. Five per cent of the bill of the Suburban Engineering Company was ordered paid and the balance of $1,400 is to be paid a year from now. The bill of the Olsen Fence Company of $795.60 was ordered. This is for a fence which encloses the disposal plant. A complaint was received from Edward Tubbs regarding the dumping of pumice in the brook near his home. This was referred to the health officer, Dr. J. W. Blakely. Among the candidates for superintendent of the disposal plant Edison Dimsey, Sr., was selected. Mr. Dimsey was for many years foreman of the marine engineering on the Pennsylvania Railroad and was located at Weehawken. His duties are not confining if the plant is functioning properly. Should it not be working Mr. Dimsey's time will be fully taken until repairs are made. This carries a salary of $60 a month.

Potato and Buckwheat Crops Lower, Fruit Generally Better

Albany Oct. 11.—(Special)—Unfavorable growing weather through much of the growing season has resulted in a much lighter production of both potatoes and buckwheat than a year ago in New York but has resulted generally in a heavier production of fruit, according to a state federal report issued from the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

Favorable weather during late September and early October stopped further growth of the tender field plants, so that the potato crop of the state is now forecast at about 23,000,000 bushels compared with about 22,500,000 bushels harvested last fall. In addition many of the potatoes still fall in the smaller sizes this year.

The buckwheat production of the state promises to amount to about 2,295,000 bushels compared with about 2,011,000 bushels last year. Many fields of late planted buckwheat will give light yields since they had not completed their growth before the recent frozes.

Although late, the peach crop of western New York has been much better than a year ago amounting to about 79,000 bushels compared with last season's light production of about 41,000 bushels.

The apple harvest is now in full swing. In New York state the crop is estimated at about 1,625,000 bushels compared with last season's light production of about 1,341,000 bushels.

Some of the earlier varieties of grapes have already been harvested and the harvest of the others is now under way. The crop is now estimated at about 74,100 tons, compared with 49,400 tons harvested last season.

FOURTH BINNEWATER

Fourth Binnewater, Oct. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. M. Freer have returned to their home here after spending two weeks with friends in Kingston.

Mrs. Millie Walton has been spending a few days with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Joy of Hurley.

Mrs. Wright Maines of Kingston spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. M. Freer.

James Bush and wife, also Mrs. Fred Robinson, all of Hurley, were callers in this place on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sanford of The Clove were Kingston shoppers one day last week. They also called on Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pouch.

Those visiting Mr. Freer and wife on Sunday were their son, Rufus Freer, and wife of Mr. Marion, Lewis Pavitte and wife of Saugerties, and Samuel Freer, wife and children, of Port Jervis.

Mrs. Josephine Ditz of Staten Island and Mrs. Jane Pine called on the Freers on Sunday last.

Mrs. H. D. Ditz, daughter of Mary Lou Ditz, 204 E. 12th St., and Raymond called on the Freers on Sunday.

Mrs. L. D. Ditz, daughter of Mrs. Ditz, 204 E. 12th St., and Raymond called on the Freers on Sunday.

Shokan, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Edmund O'Brien motored here Monday from Brooklyn for a brief stay at the O'Brien country home adjoining the Reformed Church grounds.

Alonso Van Wagoner, Jr., is a new pupil at the Shokan school. The Van Wagoner family recently removed from the south side of the reservoir to the William Smith's cottage on the state road.

C. Gormley of Phoenix was numbered among callers in the hub of the reservoir, Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary Brink of Middletown is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sickler in Ashokan. Dr.

Hans Cohn of Shokan is attending Mrs. Brink.

A log cabin has been erected by out of town residents on the Myers property along the mountain road. The cabin is the second building of its type to be built in the heights section.

Mrs. James Burgher and Mrs. Clyde Winchell are attending the millinery training school in Kingston today as representatives of the Shokan Home Bureau.

The gray squirrels appear to be making themselves scarce as the hunting season approaches, and corn is being removed from the fields by farmers. Sportmen who are concerned lest farmers have killed off all the squirrels this fall will probably find plenty of the pests further back on the hills.

Mrs. Edward Moran and daughter, Barbara, have returned to their home in New York city after spending several months here.

Claude Rose, state road contractor, is engaged on repairs at the Ingalls summer home.

The old reliable Baldwin appears to be the best bearing apple tree this season. In many cases apple trees which were loaded with blossoms last spring have failed to yield a profitable crop of fruit, a condition probably due to the ravages of the tent caterpillars early in the summer.

John Alexander, well known resident of northwest Hurley, was a caller in the village Sunday.

Sheriff John Saxo of West Hurley was a caller in Shokan Thursday evening.

Mrs. Burke of Glenford has rented the residence of Mrs. May Giles and will occupy the house November 1. Mrs. Giles and brother, William Personous expect to make their home in Kingston during the coming winter.

Donna T. Lynch, author and newspaperman spent a few days recently at his place on the heights. Mr. Lynch came here from the Lake Mohonk mountain house, where he had been a guest.

R. H. McCurdy formerly one of New York city's B. W. S. engineers here during the construction of the Ashokan reservoir, called on friends here Sunday. Mr. McCurdy now is associated with Carleton E. Davis, department engineer here 20 years ago, in the Philadelphia water supply system.

C. Green, one of Kerhonkson's huddling young dairy farmers, was a caller in Shokan Thursday.

A local real estate transfer of October 12, 1935, was that of a property on the west side of the Esopus creek from William H. Cashdollar to Thomas Donohue. The Cashdollar place was located on the creek road to Boiceville.

Included among current news-reels at CCC Camps is "The March of Time," a film narrating in picture form the varied activities of the national conservation corps.

Albert Umbersaught of Ellenville visited his camp on the Ridge road last Sunday.

Mrs. Santi Nadal returned home Sunday from a two-weeks' sojourn in Canada.

City Offices Closed
All of the city offices at the city hall, with the exception of police headquarters, will be closed all day on Saturday, a legal holiday.

ERB Will Be Closed Here on Saturday

As Saturday is Columbus Day, a holiday, the offices of the local ERB will be closed all day, and all work relief projects will be halted until Monday morning, but the men will be given an opportunity to make up the lost day next week. All of the offices throughout the state will be closed on the holiday.

As soon as the leaves begin to fall from mid-October on, if normal rainfall is lacking, and if there are many sunny, windy days, the danger from fires, along the highways and secondary park roads, and along the hiking trails, grows serious.

John Krajewski Awarded Verdict

A verdict for plaintiff, John Krajewski of 56 Third avenue, Kingston, was awarded in Supreme Court Thursday afternoon in his action against Charles R. Barnes Motors Inc. of Albany. The action was brought to recover $132.50 for the installation of a truck body which plaintiff claimed was to be paid for by the defendant. The defendants denied that they should pay the charge. The jury awarded a verdict for the full amount. Chris J. Flanagan and William A. Kaecher appeared for plaintiff and Dugan & Bookstein of Albany appeared for the defendants.

A negligence action brought by Julia A. McGinnis against Joseph A. Lee and another was announced settled. A J. Cook for plaintiff McCabe and Hickey for defendants. The court then recessed until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Where Mahogany Comes From

Real mahogany comes from one family of trees of which varieties are found both in Latin America and on the west coast of Africa. About a third of the mahogany imported from Latin America is the true Swietenia, which was introduced to fame when Sir Walter Raleigh brought to Queen Elizabeth a mahogany table on his return from Trinidad in 1585.

Memorial to Women

Two beautiful memorials to women may be seen in New York state. The forest at Saranac lake in memory of Clara Barton and the forest of 10,000 young white pines planted on a plateau under the shadow of Tongue mountain on Lake George as a tribute to Gen. Stratton Porter, eminent conservationist and author.

The first colony in Central America was founded by Columbus in 1502 in Costa Rica where he left his brother Bartholomew.

CHIEF MURPHY SPOKE TO ROTARY BOYS CLUB

The Rotary Boys Club met in the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening at which time the boys were addressed by Fire Chief Joseph Murphy, who spoke on fire prevention.

As this is Fire Prevention Week, Mr. Murphy's talk was particularly interesting. Preceding their meeting, the 35 boys who attended the meeting enjoyed a period in the gymnasium and the "Y" pool.

Dole Costs Millions

Washington, Oct. 11 (AP)—The cost of the "dole" which the government is struggling to abandon still amounts to millions of dollars each month. Official figures showed today that the cost of direct relief (popularly known as the dole) in the three months ended October 1 was two thirds the expenditure during the corresponding period last year, and twice that of the 1933 period.

Name of British Origin Claimed by Most People

Although it is probable that slightly less than one third of Americans are English in paternal blood more than half of our name use is English, writes Howard F. Barker in the Atlantic Monthly. How much more than half cannot be stated exactly, but allowing for variations and special circumstances affecting certain names, it seems a fair statement that American family nomenclature is 55 per cent English. Part of the difference between the 55 per cent and the percentage based on blood is accounted for by negro name use carried over from the slaveholders of the Old South. All names other than English have a tendency to seem queer to us. If they are at all like English names these more familiar appellations are often adopted in their stead.

Both conversion, which is change on the basis of sound, and translation, change on the basis of meaning. In crease the English element in our name usage. Thus Germans named Moritz and French named Maurice come to be known as Morris, a typically Welsh patronym. In like manner the German cognomen Roth pronounced in German as Root may be replaced by Root, an Essex name. Sometimes respelling contributes to the Anglicization as when Gerber is respelled as Garber, and then converted into Carver, which is distinctly English. Changes are commonly suggested by the sound of the appellations, but meanings or supposed meanings play some part. A German Schaefer becomes a Shepherd and a Sommer a Summers by consideration of meanings. Likewise an Irish McShane finds excuse for being a Johnson and a Cleary a Clark. So, too, an Aaron becomes a Harris, and a Levinsky a Lewis.

Cannon First Firearms;

Gunpowder Used in 1300

Gunpowder made its first appearance on the battlefields of Europe in the early 1300s. The first firearms were cannon. Two hundred years elapsed before the appearance of guns and pistols. The first mention of a peaceful use of explosives, in mining, did not come until the Seventeenth century after men had been trying to destroy each other with gunpowder for nearly three hundred years, writes Dr. Thom as M. Beck in the Chicago Tribune.

Ordinary black gunpowder, consisting of saltpeter (potassium nitrate), sulphur, and charcoal, remained the only known explosive until the middle of the last century. Such improvements as were made in it consisted of using purer materials and better mechanical mixing and not an improved chemical structure.

It had a number of serious defects. Since it contained nonvolatile potassium compounds it left a solid ash after exploding, which fouled gun barrels and caused a heavy smoke. Moreover, naturally occurring potassium nitrate is a common mineral. Finding the Nitre plant was the supply was inadequate and it was necessary to prepare the mineral artificially. In a highly inflammable material, a part of which was sulphur, was mixed with saltpeter and then mixed with charcoal to produce a mixture. The mixture of these three ingredients was a little bit of a puzzle. It was a mixture of three ingredients and it was a mixture of three ingredients and it was a mixture of three ingredients.

SERVING SMART FOODS AT PARTIES WILL MAKE YOU POPULAR HOSTESS

A MEXICAN SUPPER IS GAY, DELIGHTFUL

Give a Mexican supper party! It will be a gay, colorful, different—like a trip on a magic carpet to sunny, fascinating Mexico. Your guests will talk about it for weeks afterward.

Plan a table in the vivid red, green, yellow and warm brown that Mexicans love to use. A yellow tablecloth with a Mexican runner and yellow napkins. Brown earthenware dishes. Green water glasses. For a centerpiece have a lacquer bowl filled with red and green peppers, gourds, a pineapple, ripe figs, mangoes.

The menu: Chiles Rellenos (stuffed peppers), Mexican rice, string beans, avocado salad, cream cheese and guava jelly. Here's the recipe for the main dish:

Chiles Rellenos

2 tablespoons minced onion
1 pound chopped meat, half beef, half pork
1 cup chopped tomatoes or canned tomatoes
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup blanched, chopped almonds
1 green pepper

Saute the onion in butter or olive oil until soft and yellow. Add chopped meat, then tomatoes, raisins, and almonds, and cook until heated through. Wash peppers, fill with tops and remove seeds. Fill peppers with meat mixture, replace tops and bake in the oven at 350 to 375 degrees F. Serve with a chili sauce made by adding a teaspoon of chili powder to your favorite tomato sauce.

Tomatoes (one of Mexico's favorite vegetables) make the Mexican rice tasty, fluffy and savory. Make it like this: Cook a small, finely chopped onion in butter until soft. Add a cup of rice, uncooked, but well washed, and let it brown slightly. Then add two cups of tomato juice. Season with salt and pepper. Bring to a rolling boil, cover dish tightly, remove from the stove, and place in a hot oven for 20 minutes, or until rice has absorbed the liquid.

PATTERN 3280

Crochet your gloves and you will be not only comfortable and warm but also right in style—whether it's sports or dressy clothes you favor. This pair made in a soft wool will add an attractive note to your costume. The gauntlet glove with its lacy inset gives it a swaggy look. The wrist-strap adds to the trim appearance. And if you drive, they are just the thing for, though mending beautifully to the hand, they give the ample freedom necessary in handling a car.

In pattern 3280 you will find complete instructions for making the gloves shown in a small, medium and large size (all given in the one pattern); an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

Cook Apples in Covered Kettles

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 11—"Apples, either baked or as applesauce, have a better flavor when they are cooked in a covered rather than an uncovered container," says Professor Marian C. Pfund of the New York state college of home economics, as the result of experiments on cooking New York state apples.

"Apples usually keep their delicate flavor until about February and do not need additional seasoning," Miss Pfund says. "However, after they have been in storage several months, such seasonings as spices, lemon juice, and brown sugar may improve their flavor, when cooked."

Applesauce Needs Care

After repeated tests, Miss Pfund found that, contrary to the once popular belief, applesauce does not need more sugar if it is added at the start of cooking, nor is the apple flavor held better if the sugar is added at the end of cooking. In fact, the apples are more likely to stick to the pan if the sugar is not added until the end. She also found that apples, cooked with the skin on and then strained, may make a bitter sauce.

A clear, glossy product with an attractive color, and fruity flavor with both tartness and sweetness is the standard set for applesauce. If the sauce is strained, it should be smooth; if unstrained, the whole sections should be tender when pierced with a fork.

Gives Recipe

The recipe used by Miss Pfund follows: 3 pounds of apples, or about 10 medium-sized ones; 2-3 cup of sugar; 1 1/2 cups of water and a pinch of salt if desired. Wash, pare, core and slice the apples. Bring the water and sugar to a boil in a large pan. Add the sliced apples, stir them, and then cover them. Cook them about 10 minutes, but uncover and stir them every few minutes. Cook the apples until they are tender, but not soft, then allow them to stand in the covered pan five minutes. Strain them if desired. This recipe makes about 1 1/2 quarts of applesauce.

"The cooking time will vary with the variety of apple, the time of year, and the size of the slices," Miss Pfund says. "Some varieties may cook in 15 to 20 minutes, others in 5 to 8 minutes. Too long cooking and too much sugar will destroy the delicate apple flavor. The sugar called for in the recipe is enough for most apples; slightly more may be needed for such varieties as the Baldwin, Dutchess and Rhode Island Greening; less may be desirable for the Golden Delicious, Winter Banana, and Cortland."

Pattern No. 1601-B

The Coat-Dress, Best of All Fashions for the Mature Figure

Of course the reason that coat-dresses are so becoming to older women is that they accent long lines. This one closes at the side front with buttons at the waistline. The sleeves are frankly kimono, long, and finished with a turned back cuff. One side of the blouse is quite simple, trimmed with a narrow band of contrasting fabric at the V cut neck. But the other has a wide reverse, also trimmed with a flat band of material, or braid. Darts mold the waistline, and the skirt is straight with a deep overlapping front.

This is a lovely dress in the dull heavy satin that is so good this season. Black, plum, rust, deep purple, or sage green are perfect for the older woman.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1601-B is designed in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52 and 54. Size 36 requires 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material, and 1 1/2 yards of 23-inch material for contrast.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Details smarten
the new leather jackets.

Liana Murwin

The always practical and serviceable leather jackets for cool weather sports and campus wear show more than the usual amount of style smartness this season, with color playing a more important role in their make-up. Suede is the favored finish with deftly tailored details and silk linings also adding a goodly share of style interest.

London tan and brown in rich tones, also forest green, Harvard red, and sand color are chosen as leading favorites that one can wear smartly over a wool frock or with separate sweater blouse and skirt.

The silk-lined suede coat sketched at left above, is of regulation sport jacket length with roomy, blousing back, notched collar and set-in sleeves. It has two smartly tilted slash pockets, a full belt and five buttons down the front with matching buttons on the sleeve cuffs.

The other suede model shown at right is quite different in styling, being slightly shorter (about hip length) and featuring raglan shoulders, Johnny collar and regulating straps at the wrist. The full belt is stitched on to the jacket at back and the two waistline pockets are set in straight.

Baked Apples.

Directions given by Miss Pfund for baking apples are: 3 pounds of baking apples, or about 10 medium-sized ones; 1-3 cup of sugar, about one teaspoon for each apple; and a pinch of salt if desired. Select apples of uniform size, wash and core them. Place them in a baking dish with a cover, pour the sugar into the core centers, cover and bake them in a hot oven at about 400 degrees Fahrenheit for approximately 30 minutes.

When they are done, they should be tender but not soft, and should keep their shape. Let them stand in the covered baking dish 10 minutes after taking them from the oven. This will complete the cooking and help them to keep their shape which may be destroyed if the baking is completed in the oven.

According to Miss Pfund, longer baking is needed for larger apples and for those which have been stored for a long time. A high temperature for a short time produces a baked apple with a better flavor than one cooked at a low temperature for a long time.

The dik-dik, smallest of the antelopes, which rarely weighs more than 10 pounds, is common in the low countries and foothills of Ethiopia.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

Just before he started on the expedition that he hopes will take him and himself into Amazon country, William LaVarre visited the American Museum of Natural History. There, for a few moments, he held in his hand the great Jonkhers uncut diamond which, as you may know, weighs 750 carats. Diamonds are no strangers to Mr. LaVarre. He has found many and bought more in South America. The largest stone ever handled by him, however, weighed 80 carats before it was cut. So he wanted the thrill of having the world's greatest uncut stone in his hands. Perhaps there was a touch of superstition about it also since, along with explorations, he will search for the precious white stones. But there was more than that.

Diamonds have a peculiar effect on those who hunt them, said Mr. LaVarre, on board the Van Rensselaer just before it started on its long voyage to Paramaribo, which will be the LaVarre headquarters. Those who find precious metals look on them simply as money. But a diamond apparently takes on a personality—or at least such a strong attraction that the underhates to part with it. As proof, he told of bush negroes who, having sold him their diamonds, came back day after day just to touch them again. When the diamonds finally were shipped to Amsterdam, their former owners were heart-broken. Miserably poor bush negroes often refuse all offers for diamonds, weighing 10 carats and up, simply because they cannot part with them. "It gets everybody," said Mr. LaVarre—and hence the visit to the museum.

To the people of the bush, Mr. LaVarre will tell of having handled the greatest diamond in the world. He will explain its size and weight and how it felt to hold it in his hand. Those who listen will be largely "pork knockers," who will be in his employ. "Pork knockers" are former sugar and rice plantation hands thrown out of employment by the depression. They unite in bands of from six to ten and go diamond hunting. Having no financial backing, they are unable to purchase luck. So they live largely on the wild pigs—peccaries—of the region, which they kill with clubs. Thus, why they were called "pork knockers" becomes apparent.

Lucius Beebe, probably the most urban of various columnists hereabouts, spent three successive week-ends in the country. On the first, a bee stung him. That was painful, but on his next trip he had a worse experience—he was so severely sunburned he had to go into retirement for two days. He made one more try, however, and came back with a severe attack of poison ivy. So now he is determined to get no nearer the country than a roof garden.

Street scene: From the windows of a ground floor tenement, the walls of an infant in distress. Every driver passing the house moving with unusual care and without blowing horns. At the corner, a ragged youngster warning motorists and truckmen, "Here's a sick kid in his block."

Gentle and white-haired Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Mahoney of Forsythe, Mo., a visitor in New York, because in a magazine contest she was adjudged the best rural correspondent in the country, told of how when she first began writing 44 years ago, she recorded the birth of a little girl. As that little girl grew up, her parties were described by Mrs. Mahoney. Then came her marriage and the birth of her children. Recently, Mrs. Mahoney completed the record—the obituary of the woman of whose birth she had written. Few, if any, metropolitan reporters have such an experience.

Ohio Will Lose Island Prison It Used in 1861

Sandusky, Ohio.—One of Ohio's most notable historical landmarks, the Civil war blockhouse on Johnson's Island in Sandusky bay, is facing oblivion. Severely damaged in a recent wind storm, the old prison structure is being torn to pieces by persons seeking firewood. The blockhouse housed Confederate prisoners during the war between the states.

O. E. Lutz, historian of the Lake Erie Island region, is leading a movement to have the structure preserved. The state can take no action, as the island is owned by private interests. Two such blockhouses once were located on the island, but one was destroyed by fire several years ago.

Girl Speeder Gets

Trip Through Morgan

San Francisco.—"A trip through the morgue is worse than a jail sentence."

That, in a jittery voice, Violet Rudolph, twenty-four, protested against the sentence imposed upon her by Municipal Judge Elmer Bob Jones for reckless driving.

The judge ordered her to view bodies in the morgue as a "lesson." She was escorted by a deputy coroner into the autopsy room and the "locker" where bodies are kept pending investigations. The girl wearily followed several times.

"TV rather spend 100 days in jail than go through this again," the girl said.

Would Lift Arms Embargo on Ethiopia

town in order to supply their troops with victuals and munitions.

The people of Aduwa, who used barter in the first days after the occupation Sunday, exchanging chickens for water and eggs for empty tin cans, now use lire as a medium of exchange. They charge 50 lire (about $4) for a chicken and 50 centesimi for an egg.

The Italian troops were anxious to learn the fate of one of the two radio operators who were at the Italian Consulate in Aduwa. The operators are Italian native subjects.

One of them escaped and is now at Asmara, Eritrea, but the other is missing. They destroyed their radio before fleeing.

The consulate is now used as headquarters for the army corps.

An officer translated for the Associated Press signs left by some people, tacked to the doors of their houses when they fled, saying:

"We have gone away temporarily and beg you graciously not to touch anything within."

The soldiers were delighted by the richness of the Aduwa valley, where corn is growing magnificently on stalks eight and nine feet high.

Engineers prepared to demolish some houses in order to run a road into the city.

Foodstuffs and munitions were still being brought up on mules. Telephone lines are being run by connecting Aduwa with the General field headquarters.

Problem of Tunisia.

Paris, Oct. 11 (AP).—French officials disclosed today they are considering the problem of Tunisia's large Italian population in case the Mediterranean seaboard is troubled by the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Marcel Peyrou, resident general of Tunisia, arrived here for conferences accompanied by Major Herriot, chief of Peyrou's staff.

Officials said half of Tunisia's 20,000 Europeans are Italians who might be a source of trouble if the League of Nations' application of sanctions against Italy took an unexpected serious turn.

The status of Italian inhabitants of Tunisia was settled in a Franco-Italian agreement early this year. They are supposed to refrain from political demonstrations, officials said, but they are closely organized.

Officials declined comment on Geneva reports that Premier Pierre Laval had consented to reduce France's import quotas for Italian goods as part of the sanctions program, but did say it would be a "logical step."

They indicated, however, France would abstain from joining Britain in any blockade unless it were ordered by the League, and even then France's participation is problematical.

The possibility of a peace plan acceptable to Mussolini coming out of the League's action, perhaps through negotiation by Laval, was seen in the apparent lag in hostilities in Ethiopia. Officials expressed the opinion Premier Mussolini had reduced Italian operations, after averting the Italian defeat at Aduwa in 1934, for political rather than military reasons.

A dispatch from Djibouti to the newspaper L'Intransigeant said the Aswalmarra tribe in Ethiopia, which was held responsible for the slaying of the French administrator and militiamen in French Somaliland in January had paid tribute of 174 camels and 400 sheep at Dire Dawa.

Parade at Alexandria.

Alexandria, Egypt, Oct. 11 (AP).—With some 40 British warships standing by in the harbor, British and Egyptian soldiers and sailors paraded today, emphasizing the preparedness steps taken at this critical point of the Suez Canal.

Upward of 3,000 soldiers and sailors, recruited from warships recently sent here for defense of Egypt and the canal, marched before 70,000 spectators—the largest crowd the city has ever known, residents said.

The parade followed a fleet regatta.

Admiralty officials said the British fleet assembled at Alexandria was as "self-contained" as it was possible for any modern fleet to be.

It included nine battleships and cruisers, two aircraft carriers, 14 destroyers, half a dozen mine sweepers, half a dozen submarines and many auxiliary craft.

Troops are Marching

Asmara, Eritrea, Oct. 11 (AP).—Italian reconnoitering planes reported today Ethiopian troops are marching south of Makale, 50 miles south-east of Aduwa.

Supposedly they were 35,000 men under Ras Cassa, one of Ras Seyoum's chiefs.

The troops of Ras Selaassie Cuxa who are entrusted with defending the region were also reported concentrating behind Makale.

Italians were consolidating their positions in the Amba and Augher sectors. Ethiopian reports that Ethiopians had occupied Adigrat were denied by Italians who said they still held the town last night.

Several have been wounded in fighting during the past several days in the Setti region on the frontier of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, provoked by attacks organized by bands of brigands. Italians have been entirely on the defensive in that sector.

As no Ethiopian troops have been sighted in the direction of Asmara, it was considered possible an Ethiopian advance in that sector may be delayed. According to Ethiopian practice, the battle may occur not at Makale but in the Magdala region where an English expeditionary corps once defeated troops of the Emperor Theodoros.

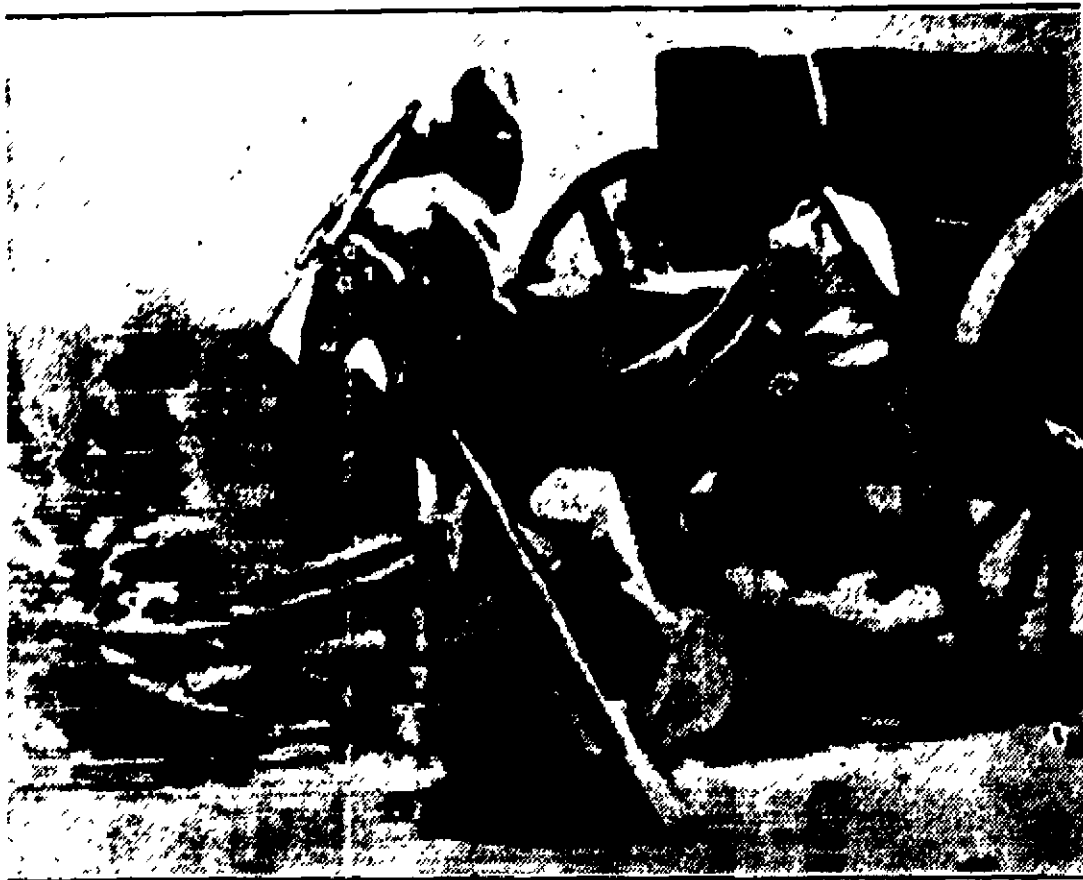

Light Casualties Reported

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP).—Light Italian casualties and surrender by important Ethiopian chiefs were reported today in an official communique on the Fascist campaign of occupation in Ethiopia.

The losses in the first four days of fighting were announced as five Italians and 35 native Eritreans killed, and 20 Italians and 50 natives wounded.

Thirty-three native soldiers were

CAVALRY LEADS ITALIAN ATTACK

This official photograph from the Ethiopian war area shows Italian cavalrymen as they galloped to the attack when Italian forces fought their way into Ethiopia along the Aduwa front. reported missing.

Two important Ethiopian chiefs came through the Italian lines and offered their support to the Italian command, the communique said.

The first was Degiac Hailu Selaassie Gugas, chief of a vast eastern Tigre region, who brought with him several thousand followers, the announcement said, and the second was Degiac Kassa Arala, who also brought with him his forces.

These surrenders were said to be "of great importance" as showing that Ethiopians along the Eritrean frontier did not wish to fight against the Italians.

During the first four days of fighting, since which the Italian army has been digging in, the communique said, Italians captured one cannon, one machine gun, 134 rifles and 20 cases of ammunition.

The communique said airplanes had been actively surveying the country ahead of the northern lines as far south as the Takazze river, and that nowhere had they found any large bodies of Ethiopian forces.

A report that an Italian plane was shot down near Asmara was denied. The Italian high command will transfer its headquarters forward into conquered territory soon, it was announced.

Yields to Demand

Addis Ababa, Oct. 11.—The Italian minister to Ethiopia, Luigi Vinetti-Gigliucci, yielded today to the demand of Emperor Haile Selaassie that he get out of the country at once and announced that he and his aides would depart tomorrow.

His announcement came after a high Ethiopian official declared the envoy must leave of his own volition by 11 a. m. tomorrow or be put out by force.

Other members of the diplomatic corps counseled Vinetti not to attempt to prolong his stay but to leave quietly.

The Ethiopian government was not informed concerning reports that Aduwa had been recaptured by the Ethiopians with heavy losses to the Italian forces there. The telephone lines from Addis Ababa to the north were broken.

Likewise, government officials said they had no knowledge of any fighting in the Ogaden sector.

Emperor Haile Selaassie already had ordered the Italian envoy to get out of the country on the charge that his legation was the center for Italian espionage and that the legation radio was being used for unfriendly purposes.

This order was transmitted to Vinetti yesterday and the time limit expires at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Vinetti, however, asked to remain until the Italian consular agent from Magdala arrived in the capital.

This plea, however, the government denied on the grounds that the agent's caravan cannot reach here before 10 days more have elapsed.

Other members of the diplomatic corps urged the Italian to depart at once, saying his position has become untenable.

Haile Selaassie assured Vinetti of his fullest protection, not only for himself and his attaché but for the Magdala consular agent as well. The French minister also offered to assume responsibility for the safety of the Magdala staff.

The Ethiopian government was determined not to permit Vinetti to delay his departure further.

In the meantime the diplomatic corps offered to take over the protection of the Italian legation but not the general Italian interests.

Even so this diplomatic controversy was developing the emperor informed the League of Nations that Ethiopia would never capitulate to Italy's armed forces or a declaration intended to end remove Ethiopia might make peace.

The belief in official feeling of wild dogs and even has been turned by an order of the Emperor.

JACK FAYE'S BAR AND GRILL WILL OPEN SATURDAY

As announced in an advertisement appearing in The Freeman tonight, Jack Faye's Bar & Grill, formerly Von Berg's, 254 Wall street, will open on Saturday, October 12.

Faye, who for four years was proprietor of the Elchier on Railroad avenue, will specialize in breakfasts, lunches, dinners and sea foods. For several weeks extensive repairs have been under way at the bar and grill across from the Ulster County courthouse and now the place, including the kitchen, presents a very modern appearance. Jack Faye has specialized in the restaurant business over a period of years in New York and other cities of this class and intends to follow out the policy used there in catering to patrons.

Placer gold mines are worked by Gallas in the south and west provinces of Ethiopia.

Here Are The Guesses On The Week-end Football Contests

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Oct. 11 (AP)—Strictly on the assumption that one man's guess may be as good as another's, here's the way this week's football program seems to line up:

Nebbraska-Minnesota: Unless Bernie Bierman can pull football players out of a hat, Minnesota definitely will be nowhere near so strong as the undefeated Gopher array of last year. Nebraska just as definitely is on the way back to the top with a high-powered offense built around Flashy Lloyd Cardwell. The Cornhuskers are entitled to the call.

Penn-Yale: The Quakers, beaten by Princeton in a heart-breaker last week, will have to watch out for the trickiest offense any Yale team has had. Whether the Elis have the line to go with a fine backfield is the big question mark. A ballot for Penn-Yale.

Iowa-Colgate: Perhaps the most exciting game of the day with Colgate's sleight-of-hand pitted against Iowa speed as exemplified by Ozzie Simmons and Dick Crayne. Taking the long trip into consideration, a doubtful nod in Iowa's direction.

Auburn-Tennessee: Auburn's defeat of Tulane plus Tennessee's beating by North Carolina should add up to an Auburn victory, but this observer's mathematics point to Tennessee.

Southern California-Illinois: There's little of the old power in this Trojan outfit, but we'll string along with Howard Jones for at least another week.

Stanford-UCLA: Here's the spot, perhaps, for the day's biggest upset. For Bill Spaulding's UCLA look plenty tough. This ballot for Stanford can be attributed mostly to lack of courage.

Leans Toward Fordham
Fordham-Purdue: It's considered good football policy to bet on the Big Ten in its tussles with the east, but Jimmy Crowley has plenty of manpower at Fordham. A timid ballot for Fordham.

Notre Dame-Wisconsin: Notre Dame should have no real trouble with a disorganized Badger team.

Manhattan-Louisiana State: A ballot for the southerners.

Temple-Vanderbilt: Dave Smukler has been thoroughly stopped this season, but with a new backfield flash, Vince Refko, the Temple Owls look good enough to take this Friday night game.

Yellow Jackets In "The Pink" For Grid Game Here Sunday

After the practice in the rear of the Municipal Auditorium, Thursday night, Manager Charlie Raible and Coach C. Warren Kias expressed themselves as highly satisfied that the Yellow Jackets are in "the pink" for Sunday; also that they are ready to carry out a sterling attack in any style of football.

"We're ready for them no matter how hard they are," said Raible. "The coach has the boys tuned for an effective offensive drive in the air or by pounding the line and I think we can add the Watervliet Garnets to our list."

The Garnets are composed of the best gridgers in Watervliet and vicinity. Most of them are youngsters, too, but big strong, husky lads who hope to trim Kingston and do it decisively Sunday afternoon at the Kingston Fair Grounds. Starting time of the game is 2:30.

So far the Jackets have two victories on their slate. And they haven't been scored upon in their pair of starts, so will fight hard to keep this part of their record clean Sunday. However, indications are that they will have to play harder against the upstarters than they did against the Newburgh Recreations and the Jamaica Cardinals. The Waps trimmed Newburgh 6-0 and the Cards 13-0.

Interest In Vanderbilt Temple Game Tonight

New York, Oct. 11 (AP)—One game in particular tonight—the meeting of Temple's Owls and the Vanderbilt Commodores at Philadelphia—is due to attract a lot of attention from coaches as well as football followers.

If things go according to schedule, this should provide a more or less conclusive test of old and new style football. Ray Morrison, Vanderbilt coach, startled said eastern fans when he first brought the southern Methodist "aerial circus" up to give Army a shock.

The Commodores haven't taken to the air so far this season but they have been promising some fancy flipping this week.

On the other hand, Glenn (Pop) Warner, likes nothing better than a play that sends almost a whole team of interferences charging down the field to knock the opposition endwise.

Almost as much interest hangs on tomorrow's Colgate-Iowa clash at Iowa City when Andy Kerr's ball jugglers, who gave the mighty Ohio state team a struggle last year, try their tricks against the Hawkeyes, who play up-to-date football but adhere more to the running game.

But Pe-Kins was picked today to carry the hunt of Syracuse University's attack against Cornell University when the big red team invades Syracuse.

Perkins will start in place of Ray Beckham, 204 pound halfback, who was forced to the sidelines when a game of touch football got too tough.

Why President Roosevelt should go to Camp Island is hard to see, when there's about $10,000,000 worth of gold buried in Washington, and

Many Still Favor Red Rain's Chances To Take The Futurity Saturday

New York, Oct. 11 (AP)—Despite his disappointing performance four days ago, C. V. Whitney's Red Rain rallied plenty of support today as up-wards of a score of two-year-olds were pointed for the $100,000 Futurity at Belmont Park tomorrow.

Although severely beaten in the Nursery Stakes, the big chestnut appeared more like the horse that came from behind to take the hopeful at Saratoga when he reeled off five furlongs in 59 3-5 seconds yesterday.

He ran down the Widener straightaway over which the Futurity will be decided at six and one-half furlongs.

With Little Joe Wagner handling the reins, Whitney of Pennant stepped the first eighth of a mile in 11 4-5 seconds, the quarter in 22 4-5, three furlongs in 34 3-5 and the half-mile in 46 3-5.

Alfred Robertson will be brought from New England to ride the Whitney ace. The lanky jockey was up on Red Rain in the Colt's debut at Saratoga.

Sonny Workman will be up on Tatterdemalion, a Whitney colt which has failed to run to expectations.

Coldstream a Favorite
The honor of being the favorite is expected to go to E. D. Shaffer's Coldstream, the big son of Bull Dog from Kentucky, which raced Red Rain to a dead heat in the Saratoga special and then took his measure in the Nursery.

James Fitzsimmons, veteran trainer, will send a powerful entry to the line in the Wheatley stable's Shark and Teufel and William Woodward's Granville.

In looking around for a horse that might upset the dope, many horsemen and laymen have selected Marshall Field's Tintagel or Hal Price Headley's Hollywood.

In a semi-final match, Al Rossi, 165, of Port Chester, N. Y., was awarded a six-round decision over Gene Dundee, 160 1/2, of Orange, by Referee Al Goldie. The fight was close all the way.

Fiducia and Tony Celli Fight Draw

Newark, N. J., Oct. 11 (AP)—Freddie Fiducia, 187, of Newark, fought an uphill battle to earn a six-round draw with Tony Celli, 176 1/2, of Worcester, Mass., in a feature bout last night.

In a semi-final match, Al Rossi, 165, of Port Chester, N. Y., was awarded a six-round decision over Gene Dundee, 160 1/2, of Orange, by Referee Al Goldie. The fight was close all the way.

The Huron Indians Celebrate Victorious Season With Banquet

Manager Fred Baumgarten and his Huron Indians wrote finale to their baseball season with a banquet at Kelder's Hotel, Thursday night.

During the evening the scalpers, who did just that to Ulster county and other teams that roved into Kiste Field the past summer, spent a very enjoyable time, eating, drinking and talking.

Manager Baumgarten reviewed the accomplishments of the Redskins on the diamond and proudly gave a special attention to the Indian series with the Graham Superchargers of Napanoch, who fell beneath the attack of the Rosendale warriors.

Edward Doremus, former mound luminary and head coach of the Hurons, was in full bloom as one of the speakers and humorously took all of his men over the hurdles in good-natured style.

Umpire-in-chief Snyder, who did the talking on the diamond, was forced to do the listening at the banquet. He "took it with a smile", though, proving himself to be a regular fellow.

Although the Hurons have closed their activities in one branch of sport, baseball, they do not intend to be dormant until next summer. Plans were discussed for a basketball team to represent Rosendale this winter.

K. H. S. Plays Mont Pleasant Saturday

The Maroon and White varsity football squad will travel to Schenectady tomorrow to meet the strong Mont Pleasant team of that city.

According to reports, the Mont Pleasant team is a strong, rough and tough bunch of players and will, on the strength of the Maroon's game last week, be heavy favorites to cop tomorrow's tilt.

The Kingston squad practiced yesterday on pass defense, signals, and charging. The team lost the Liberty game largely, if not entirely, because of weakness in these departments. Coach Kias stated that he had no yet picked a starting lineup, but that it will undoubtedly be different from that which opened last Saturday's game.

Next week the team plays the Alumni, and then takes on Middletown in its first DUSO game. Middletown beat Mont Pleasant last week. On the strength of Kingston's performance last week and a comparison of Liberty with last year's Mont Pleasant team, the Schenectady lads are due to beat the Maroons by about 20-0. This, by the way, would indicate that the Middies were good for a four or five touchdown victory over the Kingston boys. The prospects for a good season, which seemed so bright at the beginning of the year, have gone glimmering.

NEW PALTZ NORMAL TO PLAY RAYMOND RIORDAN

The New Paltz Normal School football team will play the eleven from Raymond Riordan of Highland Saturday afternoon at New Paltz. Starting time of the game is 2 o'clock.

Cliff Van Valkenburgh of the 1933 Kingston High School DUSO League champions and former track captain for the Maroon and White will be in the New Paltz backfield.

Saxon and Norman Names
We have Saxon and Norman blood in our veins. Similarly, our Christian names are a mixture of Saxon and Norman. Alfred, Edward and Edith are old Saxon names; John (originally Jean), William, Henry (formerly Herri), Herbert and Hubert, Robert and Richard and Peter are all Norman names. Sidney was originally St. Denis. But people ran it together like "Sidney" and properly it was pronounced and spelled Sidney. St. John is an old surname borne by some people. But that spelling has remained, although the name is pronounced as if spelled Saxon.—Freeman's Weekly.

Record Crowd Expected At Golden Gloves Boxing Bout

Arrangements for the Golden Gloves boxing matches next Tuesday night at the Municipal Auditorium are rapidly rounding into completion and indications are that the battle extravaganza will be an outstanding chapter in local pugilistic history.

Benny Becker, chairman of the Adirondack division of the A. A. U. says Jimmy Lambert, International Gloves champion, and the other Golden Gloves are ready for action and also that his own flock of pugilists billed to scrap are anxious to start belting away.

The local end of the promotion set-up for the all star card announces that the business end of the big show card announces that the business end of the big show is getting on well and indicates a probable sell-out for Tuesday the 15th.

Les Barth, regular ticket agent for the boxing cards and other American Legion activities, is receiving orders for ringside seats and soon will find it difficult to give patrons much of a choice. However, there are some very desirable chairs at his disposal right now and those who want them are advised to place their orders at once.

With Lambert on the bill, fight fans from all along the Hudson river are expected to be around the ring next week when the Gloves go to work. Posters and news stories in all the leading communities along the river herald their coming and serve to put Kingston on the sports map as Andy Dykes, Bobby Cullum,

Leaf tobacco used for cigarettes increased from 13,084,037 lbs. to 326,093,357 lbs.; an increase of 2392%

It takes mild ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette.

During the year ending June 30, 1900, the Government collected from cigarette taxes $3,969,191. For the year ending June 30, 1934, the same taxes were $350,299,442 an increase of 8725% —a lot of money.

Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised.

But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos.

Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobacco.

Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

We believe you will enjoy them.
